BETHEL HIGH SCHOOL

BETHEL, NORTH CAROLINA

Marshall Field, the world's most successful retail merchant, said there were twelve things to keep in mind while working on the road to success:

one, the value of time.

*the value of
time and the virtue
of patience.*

*the worth of

the joy of originating

*in sincere appreciation
of time and talent
given unselfishly, we
the seniors of 1967
dedicate our annual,
the Chieftain, to
Mr. Ronald Daughtry.*

"This building as a tool and an instrument, as a breathing structure newly come to life, might speak for itself today and say, 'I am a child of Time. I celebrate the dignity, importance and pathos of Time. Loving hands and thoughtful hearts have seen my foundations and walls rise to serve as best they may a young generation living in a time of world storm. Here to my rooms will come fresh generations, one after another, gazing out on the world in history, gazing in on themselves in reveries, some asking the ancient questions, "While we live, what is worth looking at, what is worth listening to, and what might be worth dying for?"'"
